

CHAPTER 2: The Christian Homeschool: Learning at Home to Be with Christ

*H*ave you ever worried that you're not smart enough or don't know enough to homeschool your child(ren)? If so, how did reading this chapter change your opinion about that?

---

---

*H*ow does the author suggest that you respond to true critics of homeschooling? What should you and shouldn't you do?

---

---

---

*W*hat are the 5 "questions" that the author addresses as they relate to homeschooling?

---

---

---

Consider the 5 questions you listed in question #3. For each one, give 1 or 2 sentences that you can use (in your own words or copied directly from the book) to answer a critic if confronted with that question.

---

---

---

In the section called "Moving in the Right Direction," what is it that the author believes has prevented the institutionalization that can slow and weaken a movement of God over time? Do you agree or disagree? Why?

---

---

---

The Clarksons believe Christian homeschooling is a movement of God to do what? Do you agree or disagree? Why?
